SITE VISITS

Master Gardener volunteer site visits are for residential property residents in Kent County, Delaware.

Master Gardeners will focus on cultural conditions, management, and plant selection in the home landscape.

A Kent County Master Gardener will contact you to make an appointment for the site visit based on your schedule and staff availability and location. Please give us at least two weeks' notice after submitting the application.

A team of two or three Master Gardener volunteers will visit your site and help you find solutions to horticultural problems. The team will spend up to two hours on-site. The resident will receive a folder of pertinent resources at the time of the site visit and a written report containing specific recommendations will follow in the mail.

DETAILS

- No ongoing commitment is implied for any services beyond the consulting service being offered.
- Cooperative Extension does not endorse any specific horticultural service or brand.
- Please limit to three priorities areas of your landscape to help focus the scope of the site visit.
- Cost: $100

Two ways to apply:

1. Complete & mail enclosed form to:

Kent County Master Gardeners
